there are no words

dedicating the 1963 WECOMI to
MRS. ELIZABETH DUNAKIN

Mrs. Elizabeth Dunakin

This year, the students of the Class of 1963 voted to dedicate the yearbook to Mrs. Elizabeth Dunakin. The WECOMI staff feels that Mrs. Dunakin is deserving of this honor and we are proud to be able to dedicate the yearbook to her.

Mrs. Dunakin is indeed a remarkable person. She graduated from Wellesley College with a B.A. degree in history and government, and later received a law degree from Northwestern University. Not only has she taught at WCHS for eight years, but she has also served on the District 95 school board. Mrs. Dunakin has had the opportunity to travel in many European countries and in Canada. All of this experience plus that of raising three children has combined to give Mrs. Dunakin's students a rich opportunity to learn.

A lady of courage is a perfect description of Mrs. Dunakin. Few of us, if any, could have faced such an experience with her great determination and courage.

John Danna
Possibly some of you may remember hearing an announcement at Christmas time last year saying that Mrs. Dunakin had been in a serious automobile accident. The student body didn't realize the serious pain and shock, or understand the terrifying possibility of never walking again.

This fall, however, Mrs. Dunakin returned to teaching at Wheaton. It is a rare person, indeed, who could have come back. It must have taken great courage to constantly navigate on crutches. Eventually, she replaced her crutches with a cane, and at Christmas she discarded her cane completely.

When you see Mrs. Dunakin walking down the hall through the crowd of surging students, remember that this is a woman who has not only walked again, but has returned to teaching at great personal sacrifice to give her utmost to help mold the generations of tomorrow.

THIS IS A SPECIAL WOMAN!

Exposed!

Teachers in Action

Mr. Leslie piddles around with his ripple tank. If you can't figure it out, Mr. Leslie, why not ask your little friend?

Continually striving to procure material which will stimulate the minds of his advanced math students, Mr. Medendorp contemplates the solution of a complex problem.

In order for a book to be placed on the background reading list, it must pass Miss Felgar's penetrating scrutiny.

Who says Latin's hard? All you do is drop the final "A" and place the last letter in front.

Pep -
It's been a wild
catch-as-catch-can year.
But we've still got about 3 months before we go running off to school. Anyway, a super congratulatory for your tremendous science project. Good luck to you and Lib. Take it easy, Pep, and be good (namely, don't do anything I wouldn't do - he he he). Remember, next fall we keep in touch - OK.

This Kid Is Ours

This year, the Senior Class has followed the tradition started last year, and has continued to support Jose D. Avellaneda of the Philippines through the Foster Parents Plan. Through the plan, the money we send is used to buy Jose such things as shoes, clothes, etc.

Jose is in the sixth grade at the Benefacio Elementary School in Pasay City. He lives with his grandfather in a small, dark room which becomes flooded during the rainy season. He does well in his studies and according to his latest letter, he was hoping to graduate in March.

This picture is that of Jose and his schoolmate, who danced the "Subli" in their school program. Though most of the seniors have not known much about him, several have written and have profited much from the experience of putting some joy into the life of this little boy.

Ask me, I know it all.

We are the SENIORS!

Lovers' Lane

I'm editor around here.

"Real Curious Savage?"

We're losing, did you pay the ref?

Guess who.

You might make it next year.

You wouldn't dare!

This was before my singing days.

"Dunkin who?"

The principle of air going through the bag is....

I'm king of the mountain,
so get out of here!

And this is my crown.

Smile pretty.

Butterfield Eight??

Hiney
the Rhiney.

Better watch out or it'll just SUCK YOU IN!

I'll show you!

Yeh, that was a good one!
You fans are great,
all four of you.

On my honor....

And you were in the closet all night?!

Justice in action.

An ace is an ace is an ace is an ace.

Mr. Dusek assumes a natural pose as he relaxes after a hard day's work.

"Who are the SOPHOMORES?"

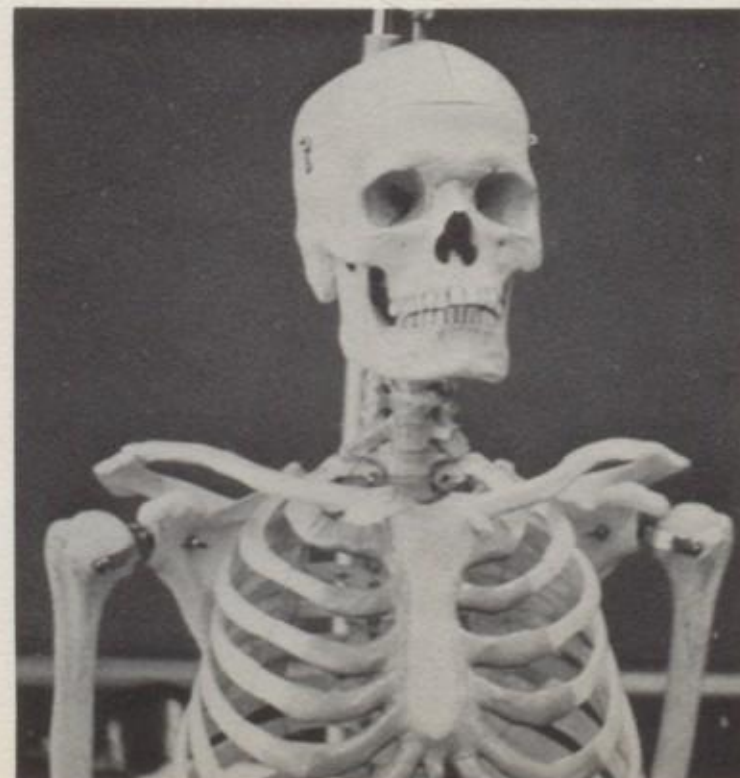

If the sophomore class continues its alert attitudes into its fourth year it will surely become the most wide-awake senior class.

Surprise Dick! Wide awake WECOMI photo boy relaxes his vigil for pictures to get a cool drink.

"I just went in to the biology room and said that I wanted to donate my body to science, but before I could say 'after I die they.....'"

Freshmen? NO! We're sophomores.

Only one year here and.....I don't see how the Seniors do it.

For the first few days freshmen had a hard time adjusting to the strange system of passing from class to class at the high school.

One more stitch and I'm done. Now all that is left is to choose a catchy name like Frankenstein or Gorgo.

"Double your pleasure....."

"Yes, Mr. Lemon,
I promise to do my

".....double your fun."

"What was that bit about

Activities

Adults today are too prone to criticize the teen-ager for watching violence on TV. The winning Sophomore float shows clearly that the trend in young people is not to just sit by and watch violence, but to actively participate in it.

Winning Sophomore Float

Beard contest winner Bob Phillips sadly loses his excuse for not washing his face.

Friday evening it was announced that the sophomore class had taken first prize in the interclass competition. Also prior to the Tiger's disheartening 25-7 loss to Maine West, Chicago disc jockey Wally Phillips crowned lovely Tiger Turnout Queen Linda Burt. Members of her court were Barb Snow, Sharon Frost, Sandy Kahler, and Sue Keller. At halftime the W.C.H.S. Marching Band presented a fine show featuring the 1962 Tigerettes, a group of 24 senior girls, in a pompom routine.

Climaxing the Homecoming celebration was the dance "Hearts Are Trump," sponsored by the junior class on Saturday night. Feature of the gathering was the crowning of King Paul Koenig. As those in attendance gradually filtered through the exit, another successful Tiger Turnout drew to a close.

Five Fair Queen Candidates

Homecoming for '62 was based on a deck of cards theme and was directed by Tiger Turnout chairmen Paul Koenig and Pat Vincent. The festivities began on the eve of Thursday October 25 in Colin Gym with a rousing pep rally followed by a sock hop with entertainment provided by Don Carone's band. Highlight of the evening was the announcement that senior Bob Phillips was the winner of the First Annual Key Club Beard Growing Contest. As reward for his concentrated two-week effort, the bearded one received a razor and a shave before the crowd.

On Friday afternoon the student body gathered downtown to witness the annual Homecoming Parade. Following the pep band and cheerleaders, was an aggregate of ten floats including entries from each class, F.T.A., Pep Club, French Club, Latin Club, Senior Women's Pep Club, and St. Francis High School.

Football players new style "workout" may account for our swinging season.

Let us all humbly bow before the Homecoming Royalty. Not only Paul and Linda deserve this honor, but so do the myriads of people who worked so industriously and self-sacrificingly to make this greatly anticipated weekend the tremendous success that it was.

Interstaters Visit Massachusetts

After a long night on the train, the weary but excited group of twenty-four students and two chaperones from WCHS reached their destination: North Adams, Massachusetts. As they stepped off the train, another group was intently watching the faces trying to match one of them with the picture he had been sent. With all partners accounted for, they began their exciting week with an auto tour of North Adams and the beautiful Mohawk Trail.

Saturday everyone enjoyed a cook-out on Mt. Greylock and spent the afternoon hiking. That evening there was a Welcome Wheaton Dance held by the student council.

Sunday was family day and most of the group visited the ski center at Mt. Snow, Vermont. A hayride into Vermont finished up the day.

Monday was the first day of school in North Adams for the WCHS students. Tours of the town's industrial plants were scheduled. The Wheaton students were then able to see a football game with North Adams' biggest rival, Pittsfield, but must not have watched the game too closely because they were not able to tell us who won.

On Tuesday everyone had a chance to relax at one of New England's resorts, East-over. The day was spent swimming, canoeing, horseback-riding, playing tennis, and golfing. The visitors returned home just in time to change for the Dinner Dance which was held at Hartwellville Lodge in Vermont.

Wednesday groups of exchange students visited Williams College, a local hospital, and training and vocational schools. That night everyone attended a Farewell Wheaton Party.

The last day, Thursday, was spent visiting classes at Drury High School.

Papi,
Thank you for many pictures.
Best of luck,
Fusako

First of all I would like to extend to all of you my thankfulness for letting me have such a wonderful experience this year. Also I would like to thank you for being so nice to a foreign student. I remember the first day I was in school. Though having no idea where I was or where I was supposed to go, I entered every class on time without getting lost. It was not magic, for somebody in each class always took me to the next one. The following few weeks, or maybe I should say throughout the whole year, people around me were amazingly patient in making me understand them and in understanding me, as my English needed much help. I know I will never forget your friendship and the wonderful times you and I enjoyed together.

Nothing could have pleased me more than snow. As beautiful and pure as it can be, snow perfectly caught my attention. Playing in snow as if I were a five-year old girl, I spent a Christmas day in delight and happiness. I thought I just loved everything about snow. However, after falling down on the frozen ground several times, I decided to correct my opinion. As long as I stay inside, snow is the most wonderful thing in the world!

As the AFS exchange student of W.C.H.S., I have been privileged to experience a lot of new things. My knowledge has been deepened and my mind opened through many school activities and events I had with you all. The Cuban crisis frightened me, but it showed me your interest in politics and your practice of democracy. The Student Conference election, which I enjoyed very much, was also a good example. In comparing the attitude of my friends in Japan and of myself, your attitude seems to have something more vital than ours.

Another advantage which I had scarcely expected was that I became aware of myself knowing so little about my country, my society, my school, my family and myself. The simplest example is that I had never thought how far my home in Nishinomiya is from our capital, Tokyo. Now I can tell you that it is 350 miles. Being away from home I could learn much more about it than when I was at home.

Last summer when I came here, I had to tell myself that I was going to stay here for a whole year. A whole year with speaking English! "A whole year" sounded terribly long to me. Now I am saying that the AFS students are allowed to stay in the United States ONLY a year! I cannot but realize how time flies. It will not be long before I leave Wheaton. It makes me sad to think of the time when I have to say goodbye to you. Instead of goodbye, I would like to say, "See you again!"

Fusako

Fusako Fuchigami, the beautiful Japanese A.F.S. student who brought a different culture with her to WCHS so that each might benefit from its contact with the other.

Fusako not only voted in the election but she took an active part in the campaigning. She says of the election, "...your attitude seems to have something more vital than ours."

Fusako and her sister Beth enjoy a favorite U.S. pas-time, drinking Coke while soaking up the sounds emitted from a transistor.

Fusako and Beth thumb through an old WECOMI. They both have found that though they may seem different superficially they are similar in their feelings and ideas.

The stately bearing of Tadayoshi, Fusako's father, is apparent even in this photograph.

Student Conference is the governing body of and for the students of Wheaton High. Through Conference all students have a representative voice in student-handled activities.

Four representatives of each class, class council presidents, and honorary members including Fusako Fuchigami, our A.F.S. student from Japan, the editor of the Tiger Times, the editor of the Wecomi, the head cheerleader, the Student Court Judge, and past officers of Conference comprise the membership of the body.

Conference is responsible for the distribution of activity ticket funds to the various organizations as well as special awards such as activity point pins and Conference pins.

the Homecoming festivities, the Christmas Dance, the Lettermen's Dance, two student-faculty teas, and the annual Conference dinner.

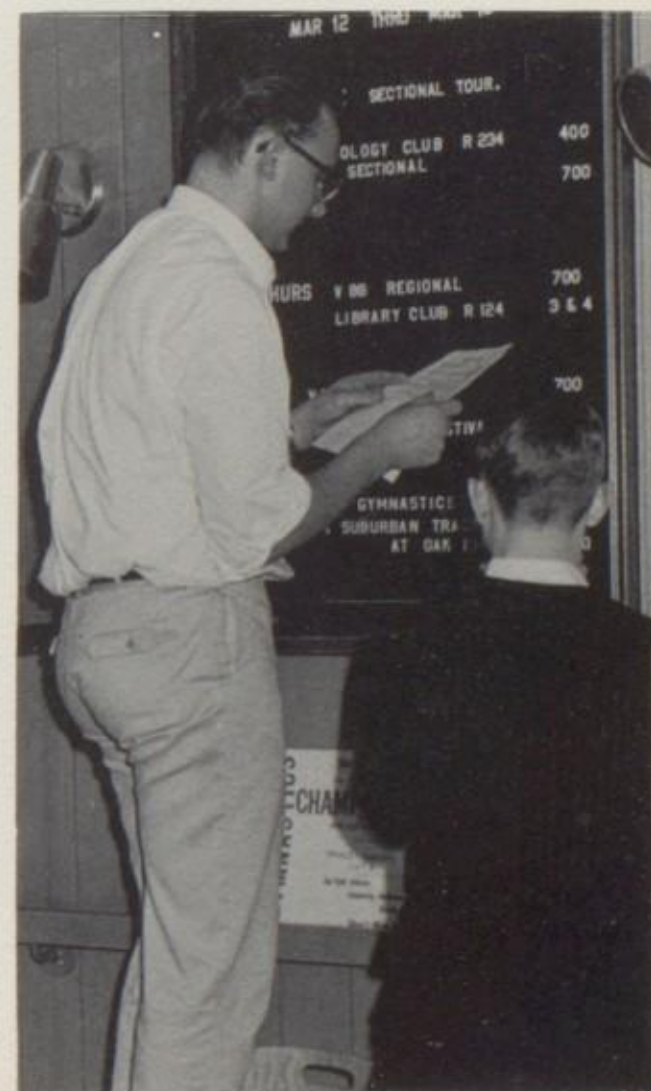

Also on the Conference agenda this past year was the naming of the new conference, the Upstate Eight, and the drafting of the constitution which will be the basis for the new conference's council relations. The interstate exchange and American Field Service programs are also conference sponsored.

Retiring officers Scott Armstrong, Sue Keller, Jim Sutorius, and Ann Crabb would like to thank the many people who worked so hard to make the Conference projects successful during their stay in office. They would also like to give special thanks to Mrs. Vining and Mr. Schaffnit for the guidance and understanding they have given in Student Conference work.

Election booths are constantly occupied on election day. Right, Chuck?

ABOVE: Campaign meetings drag on late into the night but the workers seem to be undaunted - only the grades suffer.

Students congregate in the student center to hear two normally overly-loud rock-and-roll bands try to out-blast each other.

The campaigns for Student Conference offices, which are always a colorful and exciting tradition at W.C.H.S., were slightly more down-to-earth and serious this year. At a parley between candidates and the administration, ground rules were laid out. The administration representative insisted that there be no skits, campaign songs, or toher stunts with malicious intent. The campaign managers, Paul Koenig for the Indicators and Steve Giffin for the Prophets quickly assented.

With that, a toned-down, but nevertheless interesting campaign was begun. Marathon meetings were held for the Profits ("or Prophets if you like") at Jim Courtice's home and for the Indicators ("spelled only one way") at Nancy Ritter's home. With preparations completed, Monday morning saw the school bursting with color: Posters at every conceivable place, string bands in the Student Center playing melodious strains, and even a horse which cavorted around quietly.

Phones with sing-a-long messages, wildly imaginative posters, and strange props were just a few of the gimmicks that were used to influence the intellectual voters.

Long lines of enthusiastic voters formed at the polls to cast their all-important vote.

Wide-awake judges helped to stimulate interest in those who find the elections boring.

Indicators

ABOVE RIGHT: Painters and artists were to be found everywhere during the election week. Yes, paint flew along with hot air.

One student, who shall remain nameless, gets a little over-anxious when casting his ballot, but the wide-awake election judges are on the scene to help him out.

Right, if at first you don't succeed, try, try again.

Although the skits and party songs were forbidden, during advisories diverting sketches were enacted. Another delight of the campaign was the noble battle cry of the Prophets: "Wanhhh," which we were later informed, is the love cry of the aboriginal pookie.

As a windup, parties were held by both sides and friendship delegations exchanged. Then election day came and with it an anticlimactic tenseness. When the ballots were tallied, Jim Courtice became president; Mary Liz Williamson, vice-president; George Dyke, treasurer; Beth Lower, secretary; Louis Sutton, Student Court Judge; and Timi Oury, Student Court Secretary. Thus, the campaign promises that more school pep be generated, better public relations be sought, and a more efficient student government be developed will be kept and the school will see a profitable year under their leadership.

Judge Elect L. Sutton checks up first hand on the corruption at Wheaton. In a year or so he is planning a crackdown based on this intensive check-up.

Treasurer Elect George Dyke handles money with an ease and dexterity that comes only from years of practice.

Everywhere strange things were cropping up in the halls of Wheaton High.

Student Court Does

Assistant Judge Dave Turney, Judge Chuck Gibson, and Court Recorder Barb Snow serve as the student conference's right arm as they deal with the school's lawless element.

Justice Tempered With Mercy Equality For All

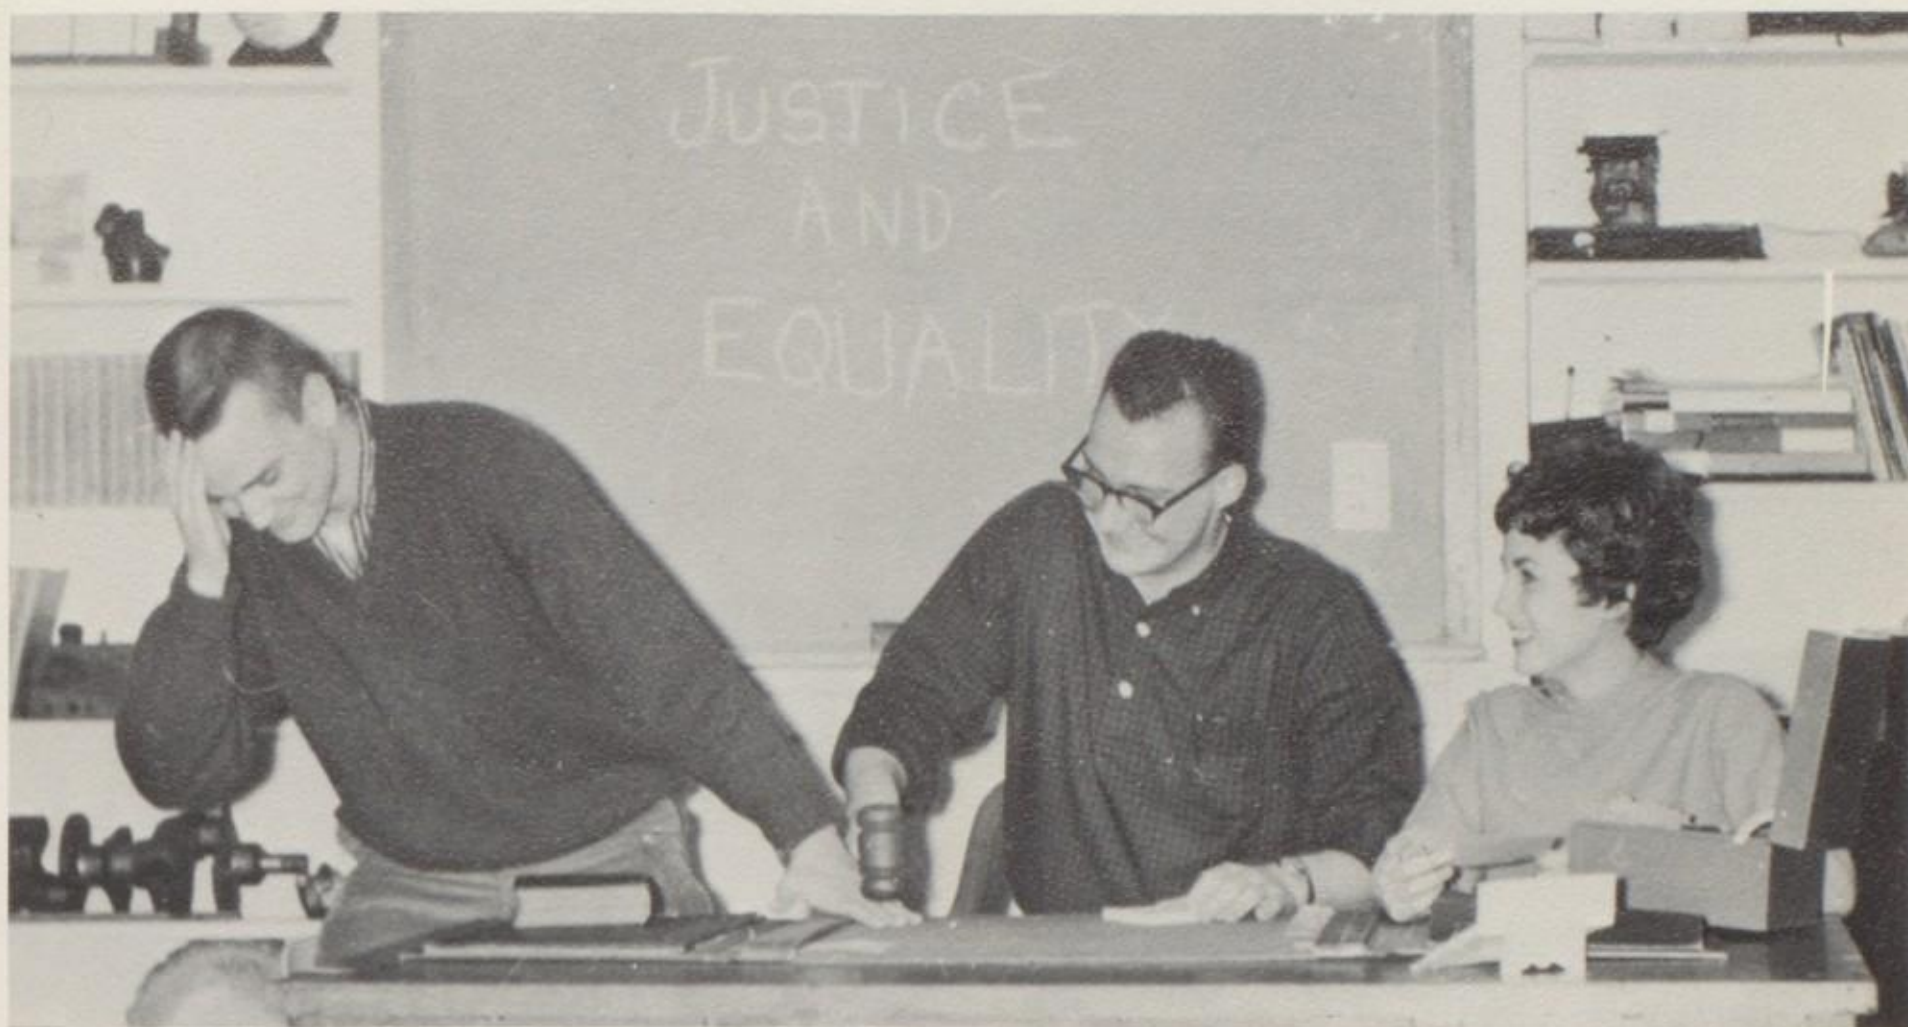

No doubt, many students have never had the "privilege" of being summoned to student court at Wheaton High. Operating as a judicial branch of Student Conference, the Court has as its purpose the maintenance of order in the halls, on stairways, and in the cafeteria.

Monitors placed at strategic positions throughout the building give out "tickets" to anyone acting in violation of school conduct rules. Upon receiving a ticket, a victim is summoned to make an appearance before the Judge and answer for his crime. Court is conducted according to regular courtroom procedure with a swearing-in ceremony, judge trying the case, recorder recording the proceedings, and a bailiff (the assistant judge) to remove any trouble makers. In case the defendant chooses to plead not guilty, the accusing monitor may be called in to give testimony pertinent to the case. The decision of the Judge is final.

As can easily be seen from the pictures on these pages, Wheaton High was endowed with a truly benevolent Judge this past year in the personage of the Honorable Charles Gibson. In the absence of Happy Charlie, Assistant Judge Dave Turney took over the bench. Barb Snow served as Court Recorder.

Perry Mason Bit

Judge Charles Gibson renders a final decision with his usual dignity and poise.

Monitors Mop up the Halls

Luck was with us when, just as the monitors were about to leave, they ensnared a boy who didn't have a pass with him. Though it was after 4:00, the monitors saw their solemn duty, and they swung smoothly into action, with a professional sense of timing which only comes from long hours of practice.

Tiger TV Team Brings Back Books

Early last fall WCHS was given the chance to send some of its talented seniors to Chicago to participate on a WNBQ-TV quiz show called "It's Academic." Fifteen students - including Scott Armstrong, Tom Attig, Ann Crabb, Sharon Fitzsimmons, Chuck Gibson, Don Jenner, Sue Keller, Dave Kramer, Sandy Lincoln, Bob Morgan, Bill Rathje, Bob Seston, Jane Spittler, and Pat Vincent - went to the WNBQ studios for an audition, and the show producers chose Dave Kramer, Bill Rathje, and Bob Seston for principal contestants, with Don Jenner and Pat Vincent standing by as alternates.

"It's Academic," broadcast every Saturday at 6 p.m., is run on the order of the popular "College Bowl," except that in this case the students are from Chicago area high schools, and three different schools are on the show each week. Bill, Bob, Dave, Don, and Pat, accompanied by WCHS speech teacher Miss Barbara Summers, made the trip to Chicago three times and scored one first place, one second, and one third.

For the first place victory over Homewood-Flossmore and Arlington Heights, the WCHS library received a set of THE GREAT BOOKS OF THE WESTERN WORLD, which contains the notable writings of thirty centuries. In the second contest, the Wheaton team was beaten by Rich East and in turn beat Evanston Township. Then, due to a contested answer in the first show, Wheaton, Homewood-Flossmore, and Arlington Heights met again, this match resulting in a first for Arlington, a second for Homewood-Flossmore, and a third for Wheaton High.

Though the atmosphere on the set during the show was tense, all concerned agreed that the chats exchanged with the other teams and the excitement of being involved in the actual production of a television program made the whole experience very enjoyable.

The Concert Band Sounds Good Like a Good Band Should

It's what's up front that counts and WCHS has got it up front on the podium where Mr. Sweet directs the band, spins the music, and makes it mild.

"My word, Molly! That sounds awful! We must leave!"

"Indeed it does and indeed we must! I can't stand it! Let's go to Wheaton, Myrtle. I've been hearing some good things from Mr. Sweet and company; maybe we can get jobs with his organization."

"It's worth a try, Molly; I'm so tired of these terrible sounds, I've forgotten what a good band sounds like. I'll be glad to try Wheaton once again."

These music stands, like many others, had forgotten what a really good band sounds like. They had tried so many other bands that they had lost track of what a real, genuine, down-to-earth band SHOULD sound like. They, like many listeners, started with Wheaton but soon began listening to other bands in the area. Their senses became numbed in their dazed wanderings from band to band until they finally realized that the certain something was missing and that listening was no longer a pleasure but only a habit. They, like so many others, realized that Wheaton had what they wanted and returned to find listening enjoyment once again. Wheaton has the sound to start with and the sound to stay with; the sound of Wheaton spoils you for other bands.

When good music means a lot, you get lots more from W.C.H.S.: more body in the low voices, more flavor in the sweet sounds of the upper register, and more taste in the selections. Only good music reaches your ears. W.C.H.S. is the band for those who really like to listen; those in the know go for the Tigers for real listening satisfaction. It sounds great because the musicians are. You get eighty-odd seasoned musicians

The Wheaton High Marching Band (the Concert Band in disguise) impatiently paws the earth as they wait to take the field to perform one of their precision routines.

The WECOMI votes for the band majorettes: Lynda McKeen, Gayle Claudon, Pat Hollingsworth, Carol Sweet, and Cindy Baker.

The Marching Band forms the easy-to-recognize form of the Liberty Bell to remind the voters in the audience to vote in the off-year election. These bold students brave any weather to entertain the fans in the stands.

trained well, developed well, blended well, and made to sound even better through longer practice. It's what's up front that counts, so remember when thinking of switching bands that only Wheaton has both a pure clean musical sound and Mr. Sweet up front. Remember, Wheaton sounds good, like a good band should.

This band has been one of the busiest organizations in W.C.H.S. throughout the year. In a surprisingly dry marching season, the marching band, with new drum-major Joe Luttrell entertained football fans with half-time shows guaranteed to satisfy their listening hunger. In addition to their three mid-game shows, the band members journeyed to the annually rain-drenched Northwestern Band Day Festival at Evanston. Joining over 5,000 other students, they prepared a colossal half-time spectacle, and for the first time in festival history the presentation actually took place.

Following the successful marching season, the band moved through to the completion of the concert season. John Roberts and Bob Phillips were sent to the All-State music activities, with numerous other band members taking part in the Fox Valley Music Festival and the district and state music contests, where competition in the solo and ensemble fields was held. The band's main efforts were directed toward the Spring Concert presented in April, a concert certainly enjoyed by all the Mollies and Myrtles in attendance.

Band officers for the year were Tom Attig, president; Bob Phillips, vice-president; Joan Trummel, secretary; and Maury Macy, treasurer.

New musically inclined talent gets a chance to develop under the watchful eye of Mr. Sweet. Here Maury Macy enthusiastically directs the Concert Band.

Intermediate Band Blasts Better Than Ever Before

Marstan, D. Sujak, E. Heverly, B. Weigt, M. Aderman, B. McBain.

The Intermediate Band is comprised primarily of freshmen and beginners for whom there is no room in the concert band. This year, the band was one of the largest and finest groups in recent years, showing great promise for future concert bands.

In the fall, this band combined with the marching band for the first time in history for a successful half-time presentation. The band's fine efforts in the concert field were rewarded with an appearance on the same program with the concert band in the spring.

The orchestra struck out on its own with its First Annual Fall Concert in November, under the direction of Mr. James Carsten. In December, the group joined hands with the choir for the Christmas Vespers presentation at Edman Chapel.

This year the orchestra celebrated its second year as an independent musical organization at WCHS. Music from CAMELOT, a Broadway show, was the main feature at the Spring Concert along with works by Mozart, Dmitri Kabalevsky, and Gillis.

The orchestra grew this year from thirty to fifty string players. The combined group totaled eighty members and was led by President Debbie Wood, Vice-President Karen Schneider, Treasurer Nancy Leo, and Secretary Karen Michelic.

A trip to perform at other high schools and the Fox Valley Music Festival were highlights of the year.

W.C.H.S. Choir Charms

Under the direction of Mr. Roland Gansman, the choir has been active, as in past years and has participated in several successful performances. At the annual Christmas Vespers, sponsored by the Women's Department Club of Wheaton, the choir presented the "Gloria Mass," by Vivaldi and "The Cherubic Hymn," by Hansen. Among other selections, various Christmas carols from other countries were presented.

Several concerts were presented for various civic groups and a small ensemble was chosen to sing at special programs. Several members of the choir participated in the district convention. From these people, members were chosen for the all-state choir. Jan

Quist and Larry Killian were the two members from the choir to represent Wheaton in this huge and beautiful choir.

The Spring Concert, presented March 17, was its usual success. Various spirituals were sung, as well as the beautiful "Glorious Everlasting," by Cousin. This is a very unusual and modern piece of music and it created a perfect finale. The choir also sang other sacred and secular numbers.

Officers this year were: Bob Seston, President; Corky Glasser, Vice-President; Pat Vincent, Secretary; and Larry Killian, Treasurer. Karen Volbrecht is the librarian and Carol Nantz is the accompanist.

The Girls' Chorus is an organization of sophomore, junior, and senior girls. This chorus is a good preparation for girls who are interested in later being in choir. From these girls, the members of choir are chosen by Mr. Gansman. The chorus participated in various events, such as the Christmas Vespers and the Spring Concert. In addition to these, the chorus sang for the Women's Society at Gary Methodist Church.

Present The Curious Savage

The local chapter of the National Thespian Society functioned under the leadership of President Liz Ray, Vice-President Mary Richmond, Secretary Dale Bennett, and Treasurer Phil Wagner. Encouraging more active participation in Thespian activities such as three-act plays, student-directed one-act plays, and a trip to attend "Becket" at the Goodman Theatre in Chicago was faculty adviser George R. Hunker.

On these pages you see pictures of the Thespian production "The Curious Savage" which drew an audience of over 1200 students in the fall. This presentation, under the direction of Mr. Hunker, concerned the zany inmates of a mental institution contrasted with the visitors from the "sane" outside world. "The Curious Savage" was one of the most successful plays in recent Wheaton Thespian history.

The cut above is the cover of the play's program. The bear is fat for a good reason. He's stuffed with cabbage.

Members of the cast analyze the characters whom they portray in a semi-informal rehearsal.

Just a quiet evening at home with the "kooks" for the doctor played by Ken Fleck. The raving beauty is Lulu Richmond, the female da Vinci is Jane Dumbauld, the mother-type is Liz Ray, the concert violinist is Pepy Parker, and the guilty-looking one is Sandy Lincoln.

The outside world (fittingly arrayed in a dastardly black) breaks in on the quiet and peace of the sanitarium with greed and distrust.

Dr. Emmet informs Mrs. Savage (Gwynn Baker) plus one that the sanitarium and the various inmates are not as strange and mixed up as are the inmates of the outside world.

Live, Lincoln! LIVE!

The production of "The Curious Savage" deserves our deepest praise and admiration for its unsurpassed originality as shown in this scene of deep philosophical meaning.

Stage-manager Gary Olson and assistant director Gene Beckman look over the script as they plan their work which is so necessary to the play's success.

On one evening of every month, Poetry and Script Club, under the direction of Miss Grace Felgar, met at the homes of its members. The meetings included the reading of a well-known author's poems followed by the reading of the members' monthly creations. Besides accomplishing its purpose of literary growth in the members, the club provides a fine opportunity for fellowship.

The poetry-loving officers were: President Barb Snow, Vice President Leslie Neill, Secretary Sue Keller, and Treasurer Linda Lewis.

Student Library Assistants

Library assistants helped in the library on a regular hourly basis. They performed a variety of duties, which aid them in their school work and sometimes lead to librarianship as a career. The group belongs to the DuPage Valley Student Library Association and is represented on the board by Janice Rockwood, a junior. The student library assistants help to make the library a pleasant place in which to be.

The purpose of Book and Library Club is to promote good reading and the understanding of literature. This year the club re-organized and now has a new constitution.

Programs included a demonstration on calligraphy by Fusako Fuchigami, a potluck supper with a talk about life behind the iron curtain by Mrs. Clara Putnik of Chicago, and a trip to Chicago to see the musical comedy "Carnival." Second semester included two book reviews by prominent Wheatonites, a spring trip at Easter-time, and the traditional picnic in June.

Officers were: Nancy Kimball, president; Georgianna Schindlbeck, vice president; Linda Troedson, secretary; and Evie Jansen, treasurer.

Current Events Club sponsor Miss Elizabeth Husted is constantly in touch with all the late breaking stories. She continually strives to promote an interest in keeping up with the times, latest happenings, crises, and issues.

Current Events Club Finds That World News is.. "Discusseding"

What is happening today? Where? Why? How will world affairs and crises affect us? The members of the Current Events Club want to know the answers to these questions. They also like an excuse to take time to read and learn about the world in which they live.

Bi-monthly the club discusses current topics, often following one topic over the span of several meetings and discussing the reasons for, the causes of, and the results of the situation. Since the members of Current Events Club read from many news sources, they often hear new and unusual views and opinions concerning late world happenings.

It has been said that an informed society makes for a democratic society, and Current Events Club is striving to create an informed and therefore democratic student body.

Officers who served under the guidance of Miss Elizabeth Husted were Sue Eastman, president; Julia McMillan, secretary-treasurer; and Bob Seal, program chairman.

Forensic Club is an organization which includes high schools all over the nation. It has two main subdivisions in its basic format, debating and oral interpretations.

The debating section uses a national topic for its material. This year's topic was, "Whether the U.S. should promote a common market for the Western Hemisphere." The debaters from WCHS competed in a debate tournament at the University of Chicago with over seventy entered, and in sectional and state debate tournaments early this spring.

The oral interpretation division has several other departments under it, including dramatic reading, humorous reading, and original oratory. This group also competed in district, sectional, and state competition this spring.

Although this was its first year as a member of Forensic Club, the group did manage to stir up interest in the school. There were twenty to thirty regular members and the bulk of these were underclassmen and should provide WCHS with some good showings in next year's competitions. Although there was only one dual meet this year, several are being scheduled for the coming season.

The club was fortunate to have two very fine sponsors, Mr. Thomas, who helped the members on their oral interpretations, and Miss Summers, who coached the debaters.

Forensic Club met every other Tuesday in Room 120. The meetings included any business to be taken care of, announcements, and a short program by some of the club members. Oral critiques of the program were given by the sponsors and club members.

Officers were: Sandy Lincoln, President; Jim Sutorius, Vice-President; Laurel Bye, Secretary; Bob Reichert, Treasurer.

Forensic Club sponsors Miss Summers and Mr. Thomas deserve a great deal of credit for their fine work. They have in one year made this club one of the most popular in the school.

A prime example of a vanishing race of social-minded, understanding, yet misunderstood, creatures who have only the teenagers' best interest at heart, Miss Pommier is trying to inspire others to follow in her footsteps.

The Future Teachers of America is a group of those students hoping to someday become teachers. The meetings have been varied and interesting, consisting of movies, speakers, and other activities. One subject concerned that of teaching machines which are becoming more widely used.

The club has sponsored two bake sales. A representative was sent to a convention in Evanston, at which many ideas concerning the field of teaching were introduced to the delegates. These ideas were brought back to the Wheaton club and were found to be quite inspiring. Some of the club members have served as assistant teachers and private tutors.

The officers are: Jean Stephans, President; Alice Kintner, Vice-President; Gay Erickson, Secretary; and Carol Bertalmio, Treasurer. Miss Anne Pommier is the faculty sponsor.

This has been a busy year for the Future Homemakers of America. During the Christmas season a very profitable bazaar was held and a Mother-Daughter Banquet was given in the spring.

The funds raised during the year were used for various projects including a contribution to CARE, a bond presentation to an outstanding senior in the field of home economics on Honor's Day, and the sending of a girl to summer camp, where she will be able to learn more about the field and relate her knowledge to Wheaton Community High School home economists.

The club's officers were: Nancy Sword, President; Elaine Hartley, Vice President; Barbara Scharringhausen, Secretary; Eleanor Hudera, Treasurer; Mrs. Katharyn Bullen, Sponsor.

Mr. James Pettigrew, Art Club sponsor, is always willing and able to assist any interested student.

Members of Art Club strive to further their understanding of art. One of their projects this year was a visit to the Art Institute of Chicago to gain more knowledge of art in its many forms.

Under the leadership of Elizabeth Esquivel, President; James Rue, Vice President; Cindy Susmilch, Secretary; Jody Burghardt, Treasurer; and Mr. James Pettigrew, sponsor, they have offered their services to the school in preparing advertisements of school activities.

This is the type of poor devil that the girls in AMC wish to help. Their humanitarian goal is certainly exemplary.

Mrs. Marie Schroeder, the school nurse, is the sponsor of the Allied Medical Careers Club.

The Life They Save May Be Your Own

Allied Medical Careers Club, sponsored by Mrs. Marie Schroeder, is open to all students interested in any of the various medical fields. Throughout the year, the members are acquainted with the different medical professions by movies, speakers, and visits to medical institutions.

A speaker from Michael Reese Hospital of Chicago, a movie on the work of an operating-room nurse, and trips to the West Suburban Hospital in Oak Park and to the Hinsdale Health Museum were on the agenda. The biggest trip of the year was a tour through the Great Lakes Naval Training Hospital. This trip takes place every two years and is open to juniors and seniors.

The club members are not interested in doing things for themselves alone. Among the projects for the year were a carnation sale for the benefit of the Central DuPage Hospital and a program for the people at the County Convalescent Home. The activities were concluded with the Spring Banquet.

This year the officers were: Joyce Claudon, President; Gail Smith, Vice President; Carol Nantz, Secretary; and Eileen Karch, Treasurer.

Biology Club Emerges From Goose Island Swamp

With Mr. Pierre stalwartly in the lead and Bob Morgan bringing up the rear, biology club sets out fearlessly to pit itself against the unknown creatures lurking in the murky reaches of Goose Island Swamp.

The Biology Club engaged in a variety of social and educational activities during the year. In an attempt at collecting biological specimens, the club took a bike hike to Goose Island in the early fall, only to return with a deeper appreciation for the dry land on which they live. The club also sponsored an all-school field trip to the Chicago Natural History Museum, the Shedd Aquarium, and the Adler Planetarium.

Winter month activities included movies and guest speakers and the participation of members in individual and group experiments, with some members entering their projects in area science fairs.

This year witnessed the launching of the first ship of the Biology Club Navy, a 14-foot canvas covered canoe, for use on field trips and for a little water fun at the annual spring picnic.

Officers who served under the direction of Mr. Dale Pierre were George Jansen, president; Bob Morgan, vice-president; Claire McClenny, secretary; and Jeanne Fischer, treasurer.

Chem Club Visits Argonne

Miss Alice Boon, sponsor of Chemistry Club, generously donates her time to those students who show extra interest in this interesting science.

Chemistry Club enables students to pursue their interest in science beyond topics covered in the classroom. The club's activities this year included a trip to Argonne National Laboratories, demonstrations and experiments conducted by the students, lectures by well-qualified speakers in the field of chemistry, and projects for individual participation.

The club functioned under the direction of Miss Alice Boon and Mrs. Phyllis Nelson, sponsors. Officers for the year were Bob Morgan, president; Jay Varley, vice-president; and Jill Ayers, secretary-treasurer.

Math Club Manipulates Figures

Riemannian space...hyperbolic geometry...quaternions...topological transformations...Is this a foreign language? No. This is a small sampling of the language of mathematics, a language which the members of Math Club are interested in understanding. In the past year, the club members viewed movies and took part in many discussions concerning this language in an effort to obtain knowledge of the world in which they live, a world of mathematics.

Another function of the club was to develop mathematical skills and understanding so that Wheaton could move up in the state-wide standings in the National High School Mathematics Contest held in the spring.

Officers were Bob Morgan, president; Jim Goodwin, vice-president; and Carol Brinkman, secretary-treasurer.

The 1963 WECOMI has initiated another of the many features which rank it above the average yearbook. This box has been provided so that any student who wishes may write down his favorite theories, axioms, equations, and problems so that in the years to come he may refer to this book for help with his income tax instead of employing a costly accountant to do the work for him. The 1963 WECOMI expects no monetary reward for this service, but it would appreciate the undying gratitude of the students of Wheaton High.

Chess Club Clashes In Fun

Tension permeates the air as fate pits two chess faddists against each other in a stimulating battle of wits. Here three games are progressing toward thrill-packed endings as each wary opponent ponderously struggles to produce the most devastating maneuver he can deliver to crush his adversary.

Chess club at Wheaton High was operated on a very informal basis. Few business meetings were held, but chess-playing meetings were held every day of the school year in Room 223. Any time a member felt like playing, all he had to do was stop in and he was sure to find competition. The annual tournament was held and the winner was Bob Morgan.

In a challenge match with archrival Glenbard West, the Tiger pawn-pushers pushed to an impressive and decisive 4-1 victory.

Officers for the year were Paul Hedstrom, president; Dean Katterndahl, vice-president; Bob Morgan, secretary; and Scott Baker, treasurer.

Los Amigos has as its aim to increase interest and understanding of the Spanish language. The officers, Judy Metegrano, President; Becky Lovett, Vice-President; Ellen Stock, Treasurer; Linda Jenner, Secretary; and the Sponsors, Miss Larson and Miss Hohlfield, all helped work toward this aim.

Throughout the year speakers related the experiences of their travels to Spanish-speaking countries. Tacos, tortillas, and tamales were among the tasty dishes ordered when the club visited a Mexican restaurant.

Feature social activity was the Christmas caroling in Spanish and the traditional breaking of the pinata.

Jacklin, S. Schneider, J. Ferguson, J. Canty.

The principal project of French Club is to hold a French banquet at the end of the school year, where the members enjoy fine food while practicing what they have learned during the year about France and its language. Open houses and bake sales were held during the year to earn the money necessary for this project.

The French Club is also trying to raise the funds to help send deserving French students, having completed their second year of French, to Quebec, Canada, for a visit. These worthwhile projects were planned and executed under the leadership of President Rochelle Richelieu, Vice-President Vicki Van Gatson, Secretary Nancy Dahlstedt, Treasurer Mary Ann Todd, and Sponsor Mrs. Violet Lindner.

This language lab has stimulated and revolutionized the study of Spanish and French at Wheaton High. It is largely due to this modern miracle that these clubs are as large as they are today.

Latin Club Plans Lavishly

Berthold, R. Williams, T. Ranahan, J. Courtice, G. Dyke.

Under the direction of Miss Dorothy Powell, Latin Club is like a Roman society in miniature, being divided into three classes: plebeians (first-year students), equites, or knights (second-year students), and senators (third and fourth-year students). The offices, too, are based on ancient Roman public offices. The Consuls (co-presidents) were Nick Renouf and George Dyke, the Scriba (secretary) was Randy Koch, the Quaestor (treasurer) was Pam Beemer, and the Censor was Donna Gansman.

The large membership gathered monthly in the evening for short business meetings followed by programs including a party, a play (This year, part of "Winnie Ille Pu" was dramatized), talks, and lectures.

The club sponsors the students who go to the sectional and state Latin contests and awards Eta Sigma Phi medals to seniors who finish with a straight "A" average for four years of Latin.

The big event of the year is, of course, the Roman Banquet, held in the spring. While freshmen, serving as slaves, run about here and there, the toga-clad upper-classmen leisurely sip honeyed ambrosia and eat a Roman meal (without the aid of knives or forks). This annual revelry is a grand climax to months of planning by members of Latin Club.

Radios Reverberate Resounding Rhythms

After a year of inactivity, the Radio Club reorganized and had a successful year despite staggered schedule problems.

In keeping with one of the major activities of the club, operating its own amateur radio station, the club's license was renewed and a new antenna was purchased to replace the well weather-worn antenna previously in use. To help members learn the radio-telegraph code, practice sessions were held for those interested, while others who had already learned the code spent their time working on various electronic projects.

The officers were: John Bocker, President; John Ahlers, Vice-President; Tom Sanders, Treasurer. The club's sponsor was Mr. Homer Frase.

"Tiger Times" Editor Doug Markley works day and night to organize, plan, and edit WCHS's journalistic effort. The paper's enthusiastic reception by the student body makes Doug's long hours of work worth while.

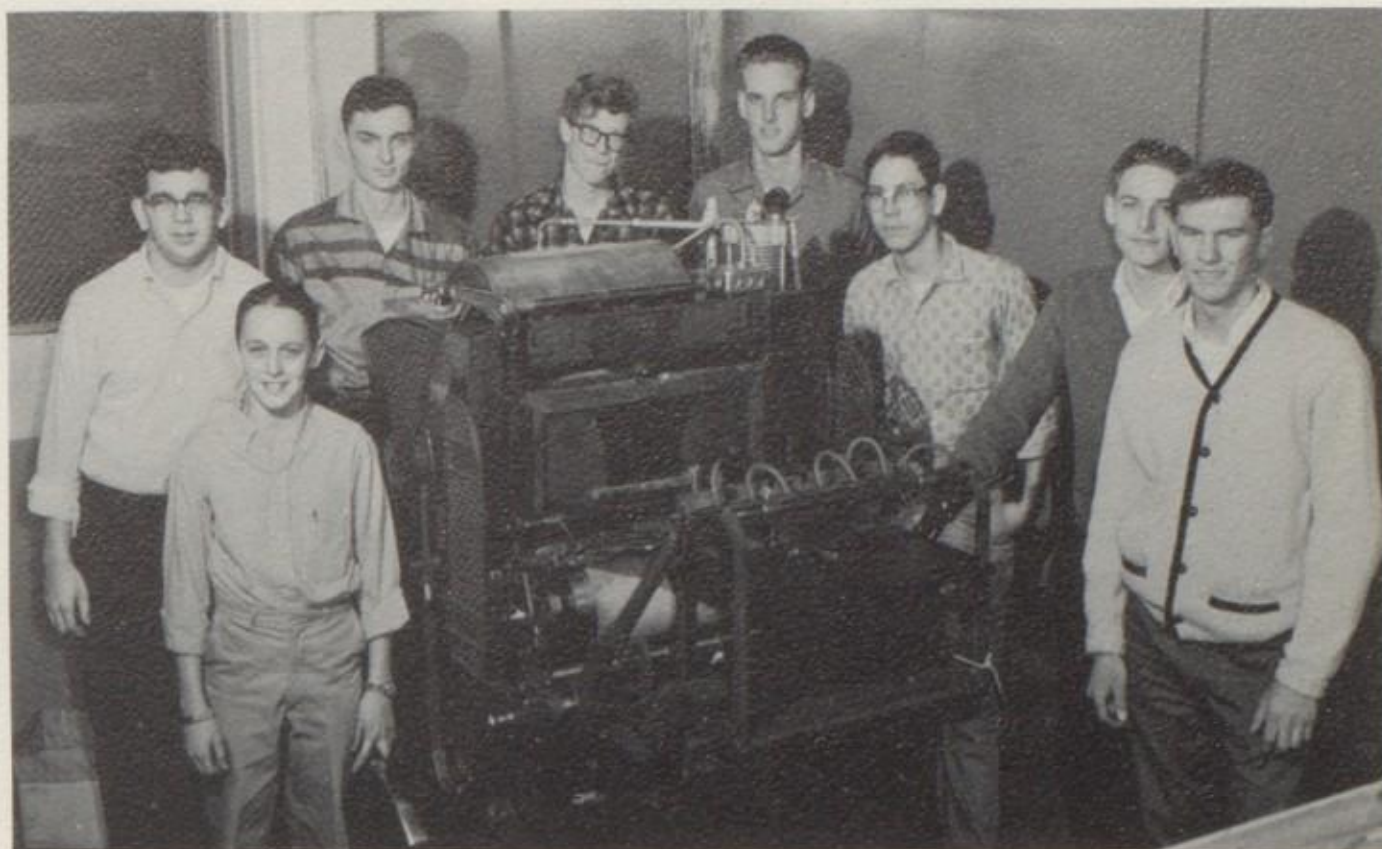

The "Tiger Times" is a means for students to employ their writing talents as well as keeping the student body informed on the latest news, activities, and gossip throughout the school. Workers gain experience in gathering facts and co-ordinating ideas for presentation to the student body.

A major step forward was made this year with the purchase of printing equipment in February to enable the Industrial Arts Department to print the paper in the school's Graphic Arts classes. This step was made possible through loans from various student activity funds. The "Tiger Times" offers its thanks and appreciation to Phillips Print Shop for co-operation in printing past issues of the paper.

Staff members in charge of publishing the paper were Doug Markley, Editor; Carol Patrick, News Editor; Sallie Pitts, Feature Editor; Dave Kramer, Sports Editor; Jill Gray, Circulation Manager, Jim Rue, Advertising Manager; and Mr. Donald Elfstrom, Faculty Sponsor.

Hold it! Don't put it away on the shelf! This book is different. We didn't produce it as a relic to be put in a corner to collect dust. THIS BOOK IS A YEAR OF OUR LIVES. DON'T WASTE IT!

With grim determination the 1963 WECOMI staff pressed forward through thick and thin braving the ever-present storm of deadline after deadline. Incorporated into the 224 pages of this monumental yet compact little volume are the ideas of a lost generation. From cover to cover, the 1963 edition reflects the efforts of the staff to provide the students with a yearbook with interesting comments on and an accurate portrayal of the school year at WCHS.

From page to page, picture to picture, and activity to activity, the wide-awake staff of eager young beavers endeavored to instill a new look that will, we trust, be a constant pleasure to its readers in the years to come. The original cover design, the colored end sheets, the generously spaced candid, the new interest added to the usually dull pages by heaps of pictures, the terrible catchy headlines and amazingly clever cutlines, the interesting copy, and finally the subtle social satire spread like a fine spice throughout the book was all planned and carried out with the enjoyment of the reader in mind.

Pat Vincent Visits Girls' State

Each year one girl from high school is selected to attend Girls' State, held in Jacksonville, Illinois, in the early part of June. Approximately 500 girls attend from all over the state.

The qualifications a Girls' Stater must have are leadership ability, amiability, and the ability to get along on a minimum amount of sleep.

These girls attend classes and lectures daily to learn the functions of the state and local governments. At night they sit up 'til the wee hours discussing such subjects as, "How is the prom held in Marengo?" or "What's the student government like at Oak Park High?" or "Do you think DuSable will go down state again next year in basketball?"

This wonderful week is climaxed by a trip to Springfield, where, it is rumored, the girls sometimes happen to meet the fellows from Boys' State.

When the girls depart, they have had an introduction to the intricate functionings of the state and local governments, and to some of the nicest girls in the State of Illinois.

National Honor Society Strives for Academic Excellence

This genius business is just too boring.

Last June at the Honors Day Assembly, eleven members of the Class of 1963 were admitted to the National Honor Society as juniors. The members of this group, which functions only as an honorary organization, are selected for membership on the basis of scholarship, leadership, service, and character. Other members will be admitted this spring as seniors.

PEP CLUB (Part II)

Girls' League Serves School

Girls' League was a new addition to W.C.H.S. this year. The organization was open to all sophomore girls interested in service to any worthwhile school or community venture.

The membership of over one hundred girls functioned under the leadership of an executive committee consisting of the four elected officers: President Meredith Poe, Vice-President Laura Miller, Secretary Jody Krulish, and Treasurer Mary Ann Todd. The five standing committees were: service, social, program, publicity, and friendship. Miss Audrey Peterson served as faculty adviser.

Service projects were proposed by the service committee, with the final decision being made by the entire organization. The social committee planned activities to promote fellowship and fun at the meetings and special events. Planning of the meetings and making of arrangements for guest speakers was handled by the program committee. Publicity committee was in charge of all advanced publicity work as well as the regular articles in the Tiger Times. The friendship committee's main job was acting as student guides for transfer students, helping them to become oriented to Wheaton High and assisting them in meeting their new classmates.

Service projects engaged in this year included an orientation picnic in September for the new freshman girls, trick-or-treating for U.N.I.C.E.F. on Halloween, a fund-raising open house in November, and a collection of food, gifts, and toys for needy families at Christmas.

Ushered In

The usher crew has been the least recognized of any school organization. This year, however, usher crew has made many improvements and has become experienced and organized under the guidance of Miss Hohlfeld, the sponsor, and Barb Smith, the head usher.

The purpose of the crew is to act as "host" to the audience during all school activities, including plays, concerts, and, most important, the Varsity Show.

There is more to being a good usher than meets the eye, and the members of the crew should be congratulated for a job well done.

The fuzzy-faced gentlemen are: Jim Bell, Scott Armstrong, Dave Miller, Don Hartzell, and the winner-?-Bob Phillips.

Key Clubs across the nation and in Canada are sponsored by local Kiwanis Clubs. We are one of over 2500 member clubs with a total membership of over 60,000. Basically our purpose is to help instill good citizenship in upperclassmen through service projects for the community, the school, and the churches.

Most of you remember the fuzzy-faced gentlemen who graced our halls during the Homecoming festivities. The Key Club congratulates Bob Phillips, the winner of that beard-?-contest.

We welcomed the opportunity to exchange ideas with the Key Clubbers from North Adams, Massachusetts, when they spent a week here as part of the interstate exchange program.

Each year all of the members of the Illinois-Iowa District meet for their convention. This year we invaded the Edgewater Beach Hotel. Most of the Wheaton members were present doing their small part toward a very successful convention.

Coach Barnes' Boys

Mr. Barnes, as the fans know him,

To quote Wheaton's varsity football coach, Howard Barnes, "Boys, we're proud of you. What's right is right, and when you do the right thing, you come out O.K. in the long run."

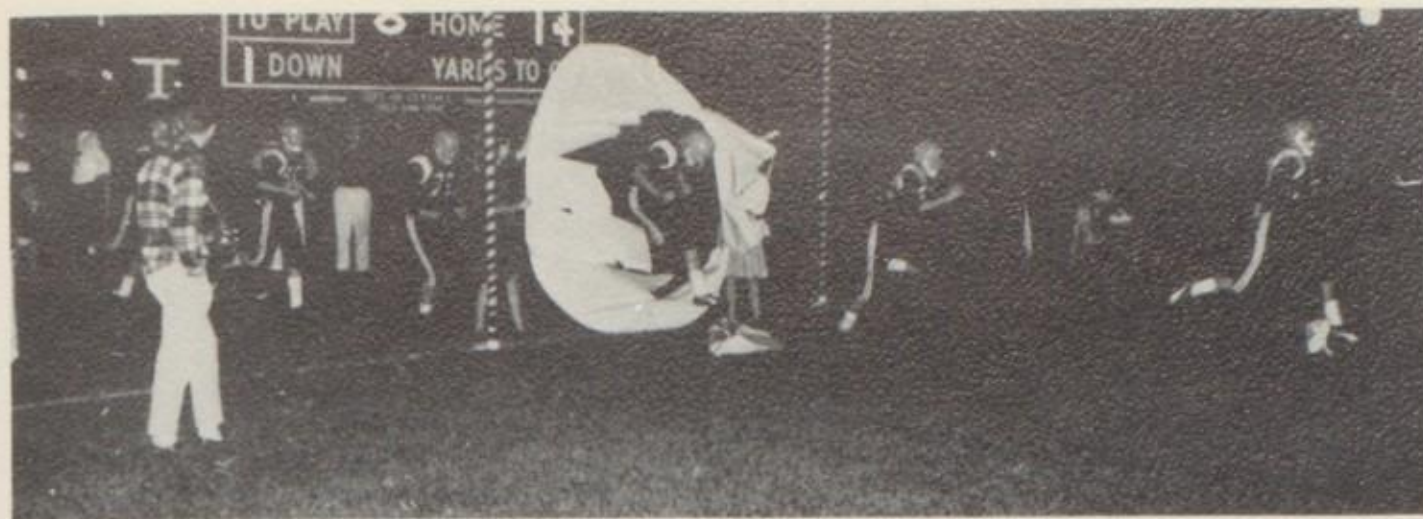

The whole school undoubtedly agrees with Coach Barnes when he says, "We're proud of our football team." Due to the suspension of a dozen players for violation of training rules, Wheaton this year was forced to go into its season with an inexperienced squad. Despite this handicap, the boys went out and fought a good fight, chalking up a fine 4-4 season record.

Opening the season against traditional rival Glenbard West, the Wheaton players proved they were not pushovers by bringing in a convincing 20-6 victory. It was in this game that John Wright began the scoring rampage which labelled him one of the outstanding juniors in the Chicagoland area. John ran for touchdowns of 4, 24, and 85 yards and kicked two extra points to account for all the Wheaton scoring.

The following week, the visitors from Proviso West splashed their way to a 14-7 victory over the Tigers in the first Interim League game of the year. Wheaton left the field at halftime with a 7-0 lead on a 30-yard touchdown

The first game began as the Wheaton Tigers slash through the Pep Club's masterpiece. Our "boys," still in a splashing mood, soundly walloped Glenbard West to start the season off with a blast.

Even with the excellent record the Tigers piled up against seemingly unsurmountable odds, some of the games proved to be upsetting headaches.

Break Even

ramble and conversion by Wright. When the Bengals returned from the locker room, however, the rains came, and the light, mobile Wheaton line could no longer get the jump on the heavier Panthers, and victory slipped away.

The third game of the year took place at downstate Rantoul. Wright gained 219 yards from scrimmage and scored 7 points, while Steve Griffin became the second Tiger to cross an opponents' goal line. The result was a 13-6 win for our side.

The next week at Willowbrook, in perhaps the most exciting game of the year, Wheaton brought their season record to 3-1 with a 14-13 win over the Warriors. Once again John Wright scored all the points, with his final tally coming with only 1:37 remaining on the clock.

The following three weeks the Tigers would just as soon forget, for they had a bit of trouble with three successive homecoming contests. They travelled to Glenbard East to be upset by a score of 13-7; they travelled to Morton West and lost 25-14; and they finally returned home for Tiger Turnout and lost 25-7 to a Maine West squad which was just plain tuff. In this period, John Wright scored all the points except a score with a recovered fumble by Gordon Engstrom in the Morton game.

In the final game for '62, Wheaton became a .500 ball club with a 7-0 victory over West Leyden. "Chip" Kee recovered Wright's fumble in the end zone for the only touchdown, and John added the extra point.

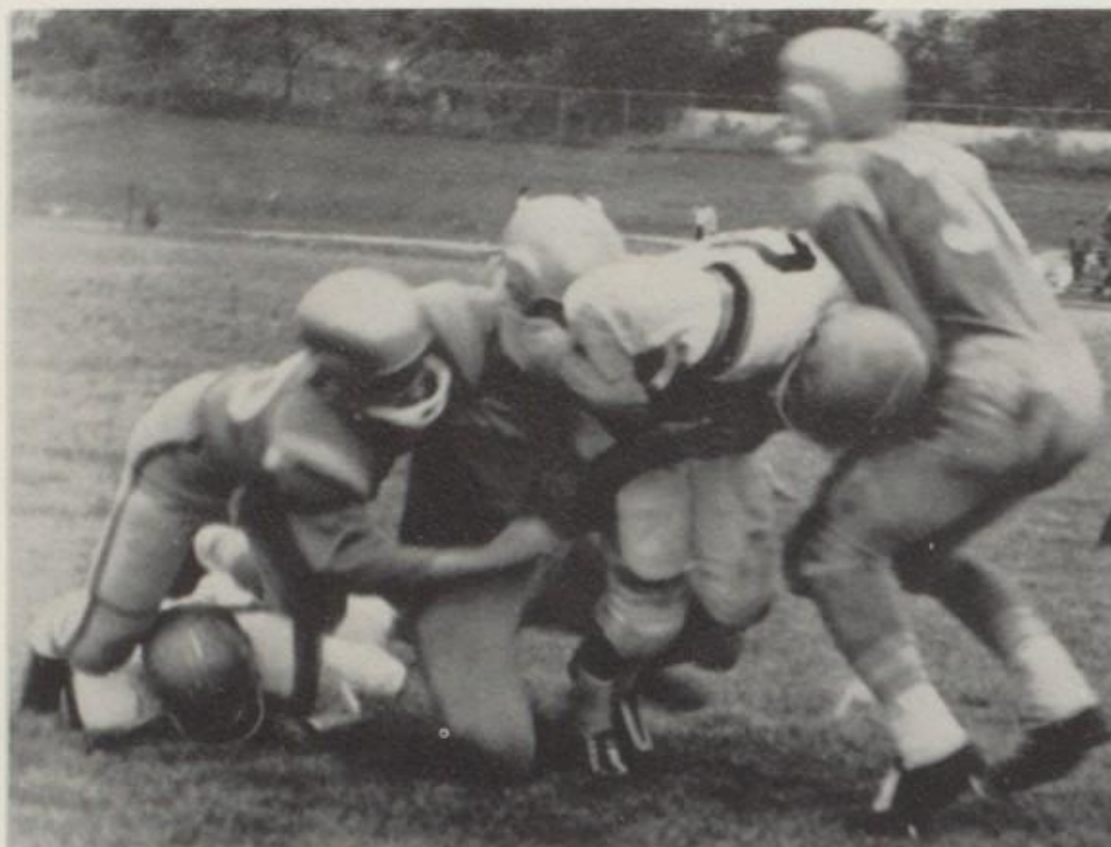

Upon completion of the season, Wright and senior guard John Renwick were selected for the All-Conference team and both gained honorable mention on the All-Suburban Area and All-State teams.

"Hey! Hold it buddy! You forgot to say 'Mother may I'."

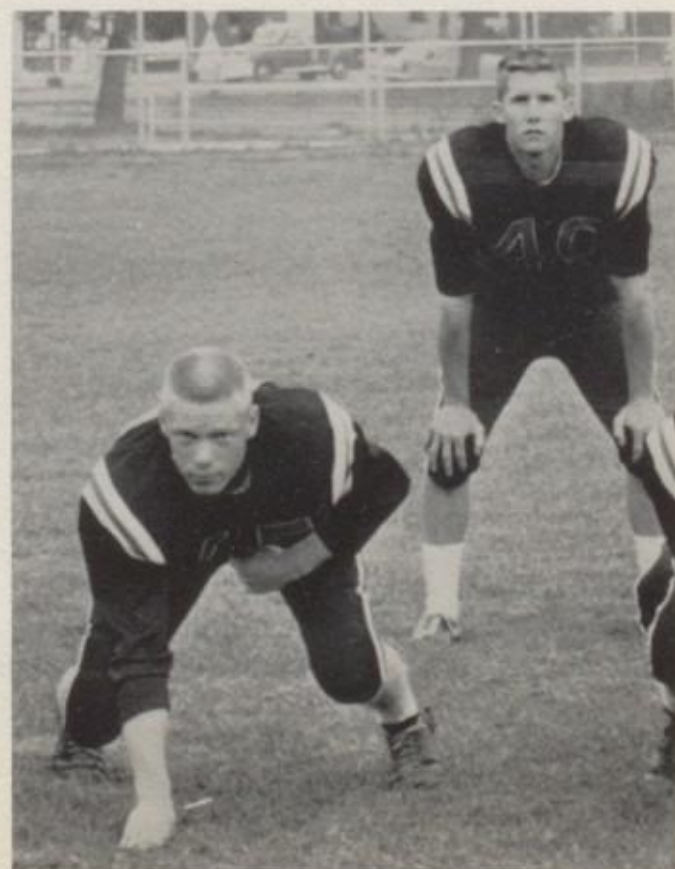

Seniors added brains and brawn to the Varsity team. Here they grimace at the unfortunate WECOMI photographer, who made the mistake of saying "hike" after he took the picture. He was released from Geneva Hospital on April 23. BACKFIELD: Cohee, Griffin, Engstrom, Hale, Palma. Coach Barnes gleefully bestows his smiles upon Tiger co-captains Chuck Gibson and John Renwick.

John Wright and Ditto Renwick, full-back and guard, were elected to the All-Conference team.

The Class of '65 had quite a bit to brag about as far as sophomore football was concerned this year. Not only did their team compile a 6-2 record, but they did so even after the loss of 11 players who were moved up to J.V. competition at mid-season.

The Wheaton freshman football team, under the direction of Coaches Maris and Arnold, battled to the freshman championship of the Interim League with an impressive unbeaten, untied season. The Cub's record of 8-0 was the result of a tremendous team effort, with each squad member pulling his share of the load.

Once again Wheaton rivals of the future must contend with a member of the fighting Kee clan, for halfback Chuck Kee demonstrated abilities as an outstanding football player by capturing the Interim League freshman scoring title with a total of eighty points.

Coach Maris attributes the team's success to just plain hard work. The team had speed and played good hard-hitting football, both offensively and defensively, showing great promise for successful football campaigns in the coming years.

Over The River

The reason behind the headline is that these pages are devoted to cross country, and when one runs for Wheaton, he runs over the river and through the woods. In the summer of '62, the boys on the team decided they'd had enough of the old course and went out to create a new one at Northside Park. They developed a difficult course which is also quite scenic, including trips around the lagoon, over two picturesque foot bridges, and around the "Public Bathtub" and Little League Stadium. The team was very successful on the new route, both in winning all their home meets and in losing the opposition in the swamp. Owner of the course record is senior Ken Schwaber with a time of 10:06 for the two-mile distance.

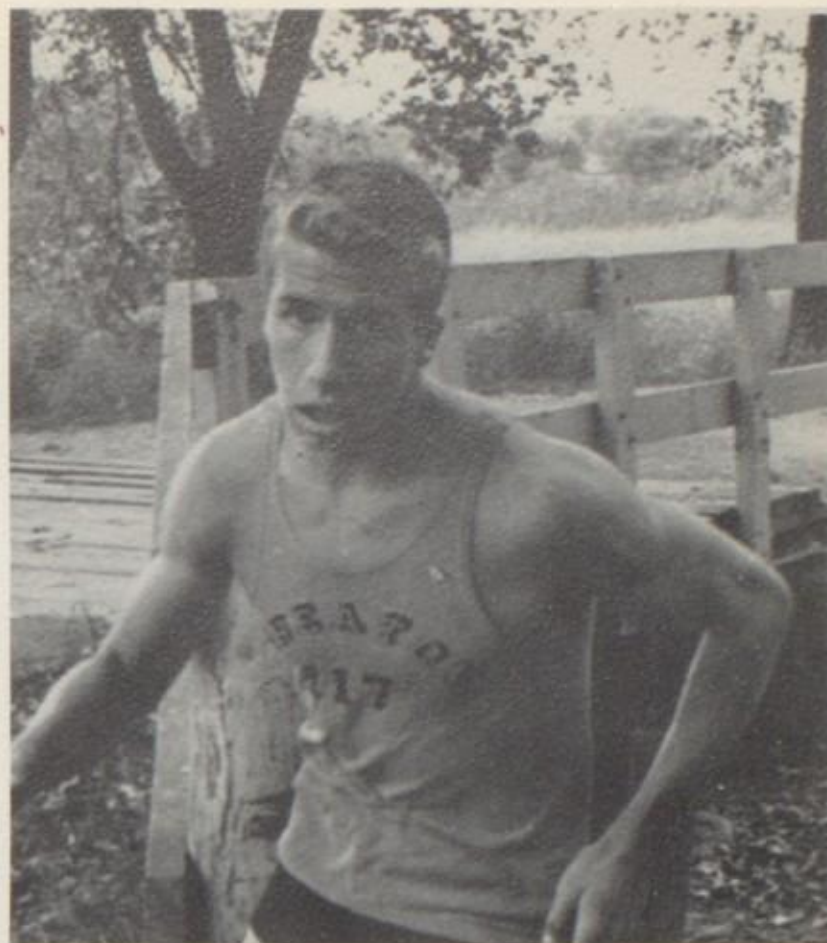

This year's improved 3-3 showing, as compared to last year's 2-6 record, can be attributed to a better balanced squad, necessary in cross country. Leading the team to a .500 season was a fine trio of runners consisting of seniors Ken Schwaber and Pete DeVere and junior Bob Ramp. In addition to the dual meets, Wheaton placed sixth in the thirteen-team field at Glenbard East in the Interim Conference Meet and twelfth in a twenty-team field in the District Meet at Willowbrook.

Tournament Play 4-3

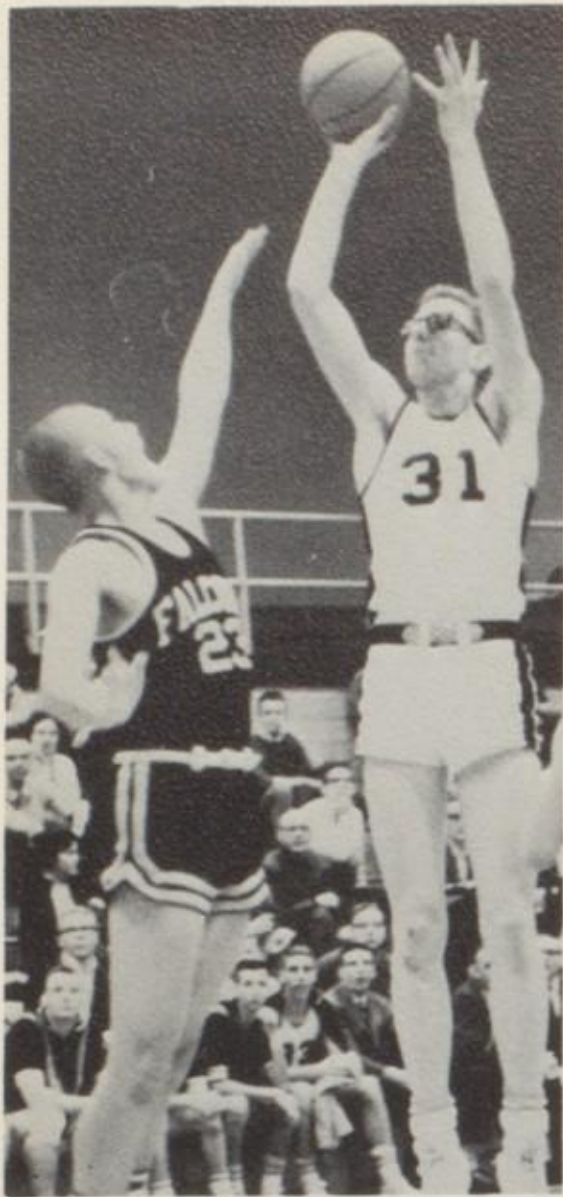

The varsity basketball team finished the regular season with a 7-11 record and a tournament season record of 4-3 to make a disappointing 11-14 over-all season. The Tigers started fast, but suffered the loss of seniors Jim Crabtree and Ray Ebel and junior John Wright through injuries. With a record of 5-9, the team settled into ninth place in the Interim League.

Following losses in the opening rounds of the holiday tournaments at Morris and Joliet, Wheaton brought home two consolation trophies with victories over Argo, Morris Ottawa, and Carl Sandburg.

The squad consisting largely of underclassmen gained valuable experience for next year, the first in the new Upstate Eight Conference.

Mr. Garner

The Varsity wrestling team finished the season with a 6-8 record which gave Wheaton a tie for fifth place in the Interim Conference. Led by Co-Captains John Buttery and Cy Faulkner, the grapplers closed the year by winning five consecutive dual meets. Buttery had a 21-3 record and Faulkner a 20-4-2 record.

Wheaton proved to be strongest in the tournaments, winning the St. Charles Quadrangle, placing second in the Oswego Quad, and fourth in the Oak Park tournament. In the District tournament, Wheaton placed third, and Buttery, Faulkner, and Paul Nelson qualified for the Sectional tournament. Faulkner placed fourth in the Sectional.

Once again this year, the Tiger Indoor Track Team works out in the big gymnasium and travels to North Central College fieldhouse in Naperville for dual and tri-meets. Coach Fricke looks forward to a very successful season and hopes to develop many bright prospects for the track season in the Spring.

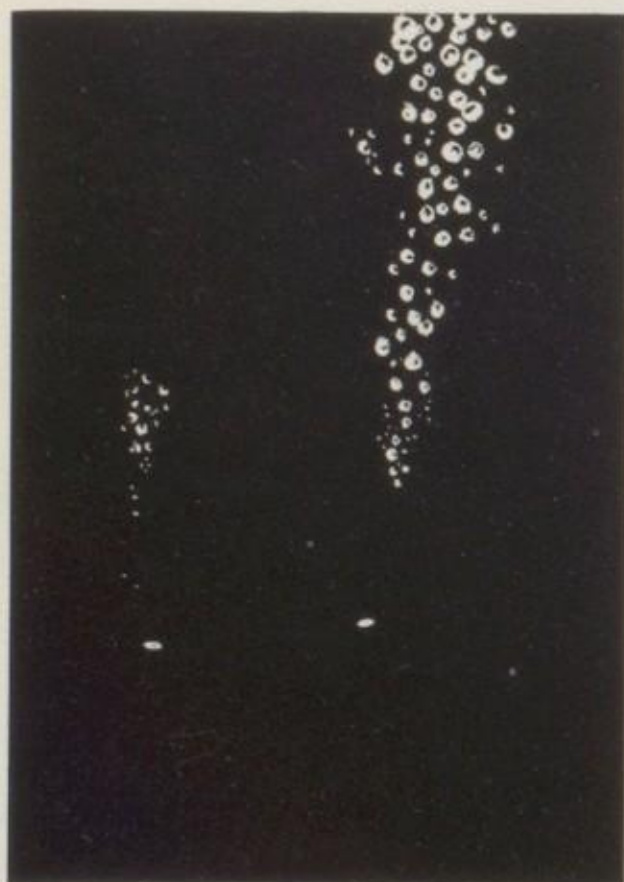

Underwater Basketweaving

Dips Into Lagoon Action

Underwater Basketweaving is a relatively new sport at WCHS. So far, we have found excellent participation in this sport and it is hoped that with a little recruiting, it will become more popular. This sport is very difficult, though the name implies something more trite. The participants must be in excellent physical and mental condition. Each member must have an abundance of courage for it is very dangerous and trying.

For those students and others who have not realized that such a sport is in existence at this school, here is a summary of the rules. Each team has five members in action. However, there are approximately forty in reserve. This year, the team started out with forty-seven, but due to various misfortunes, the number has now dwindled to 23. It is very important to build up the membership to where it belongs and thus every prospect is encouraged greatly. The object of the game is this: Each person is given a basket to weave, which takes ten minutes to finish. Then each is given some air, which will last for approximately five minutes. The object is therefore to finish the basket or burst the lungs. The one who finishes the basket is the winner and the one who bursts the lungs is the loser. It is a simple game.

Here we see the tense battle between two competitors as they struggle with their brittle reeds, each hoping to complete his basket before his lungs burst. A sad aftermath to this picture is the tragic fact that Tiger Waterman, Loyde Bridges, left, emerged face down with his completed basket. But these are the breaks of underwater basketweaving, which each team member knows before even getting wet.

ROW ONE: B. Marti, B. Gerrish, B. Van Slyke, J. Wolfgram, S. Romer, S. Lemont. ROW TWO: J. Jackson, K. Schwaber, J. Brydon, D. Krammer, J. Hale, C. Faulkner, B. Christensen. ROW THREE: D. Turney, B. Nelson, D. Petersen, D. Gerber, J. Renwick, E. Olson, B. Petersen, B. Cobb. ROW FOUR: C. Gibson, R. Ebelt, J. Crabtree, J. Farnum, P. Anderson.

Lettermen Get the Lead Out

Tiger Lettermen emerge victorious through the pep hoop symbolizing the support that the Wheaton students give them to spur them on.

These men are hard. Don't knock these men, for they are the cream of the Wheaton athletic crop. These boys deserve much credit for their efforts on the gridiron, cross-country trail, basketball court, wrestling mat, gymnastics apparatus, track and field, tennis court, golf course, and baseball diamond which have earned them the right to wear the letter representing athletic achievement at WCHS. These are our hard guys and we're proud of 'em.

Elaine Oury, Linda Burt, Nancy Wurzburg, Jill Ayers, Sandy Kahler.

Under Linda Burt's direction the cheerleaders have spurred our teams on by student pep rallies such as the one above held before a football game with Glenbard West. All of our athletes will attest to the invaluable function performed by the Varsity and JV Cheerleaders. Wheaton Community High owes a great debt of gratitude to the cheerleaders who gave so generously of their time and talent to support our teams.

With four years under our belt, I can hardly believe we finally made it.
Good luck etc. you know how it goes.
John Benson

Pepi,
It was really wonderful working on the "Diary" with you. Good luck with future years
Have fun Eileen

Pepi—
All I can remember is you runner around snapping pictures. Good luck and much success in all that you do.
Laura
Monaghan

Pepi,
Good luck to a swell at the guy. Have fun at the
Ho. Hope some day I can say "I knew him when..."
X & X,
Erin

Pepi,
Well, it's been great fun this, from putting captions on already eloquent candid captures.
Well, you can always remember my kindness in leaving your sunburn alone. Best of luck in all your later adventures.
Carol

Pepi,
Have a great time in the future but don't you dare forget about me while you're at
it!
Cathy Clift
